Antoine Muneret

RELIABLE GOOD COMMUNICATOR ADAPTABLE

Even since I was a little, I was obsessed with making things. Now 35 years old, I still am, especially websites. I most likely spend my time solving riddles on leetcode.com, creating new components to use on side projects or in a bouldering gym. I am obsessed with user experience and cognitive satisfaction, trying to find the perfect balance between visual changes and timing.

I have been working as stock manager and project manager for Nespresso, seasoning my communication skills and solidifying the reliability and stability I bring to my workplace.

<Currently/>

- Learning React and React native
- Developing websites with Vue.js
- Creation of a web resources manager library to publish on NPM
